The Eucharist Part 14 of 20

Jesus Christ: Yesterday, Today and Forever ~

Today we continue our twenty part series on the Eucharist using Trent Horn's book : 20 Answers-The Eucharist. In case you missed any of the first thirteen, you can find them here <https://www.holyredeemervan.org/documents/collection/pastor-s-column>. This is in keeping with Archbishop Etienne's pastoral letter on the Eucharist that you can find here (in case you missed it) <http://www.seattlearchdiocese.org/Assets/ARCH/NWC-Feature-ABE-Pastoral-Letter-snglpg.pdf>. Enjoy

May God Bless You,

Fr. Thomas Nathe

Trent Horn, 20 Answers - The Eucharist. Catholic Answers Press 2015. Used with permission. You can purchase the book here <https://shop.catholic.com/20-answers-the-eucharist/> and find other great Catholic resources here <https://catholic.com>.

Question #14:

How should unconsumed eucharistic elements be disposed of? What should be done if the body or blood of the Lord is spilled or coughed up?

Just as we should never take the Lord's name in vain, we should never treat the Lord himself in vain by acting in an irreverent or blasphemous way toward him when he is present with us in the sacrament of the Eucharist. That is why special care must be taken with the remaining elements of the precious body and precious blood after Mass has concluded.

The Code of Canon Law states: "A person who throws away the consecrated species or takes or retains them for a sacrilegious purpose incurs a latae sententiae (automatic) excommunication reserved to the Apostolic See; moreover, a cleric can be punished with another penalty, not excluding dismissal from the clerical state." Keep in mind, however that if a person did not know this was wrong, he would not be held accountable for his actions, and so he would not be automatically excommunicated.

In order to fully understand this law we must define what it means to "throw away" the consecrated bread and wine. Most people (but unfortunately not all people) understand that the body and blood of Christ should not be discarded in a trash bin or washed down a drain into the sewer. This would be a grave act of disrespect toward the body and blood of Christ. But many people mistakenly think that there are other licit ways to discard the consecrated species.

For example, some people believe that it is acceptable to bury the Eucharist in the ground or wash the precious blood down a sacrarium, a special sink in a church that does not lead to the sewer but drains into the earth. Redemptionis Sacramentum explicitly says that anyone “casting the sacred species in the sacrarium or in an unworthy place or on the ground, incurs the penalties laid down (in the Church’s guidelines for excommunication).”

So what should be done with leftover consecrated species? Redemptionis Sacramentum goes on to say, “whatever may remain of the Blood of Christ must be entirely and immediately consumed by the priest or by another minister, according to the norms, while the consecrated hosts that are left are to be consumed by the priest at the altar or carried to the place for the reservation of the eucharist (i.e., the tabernacle).”

In the event that someone spills the precious blood, perhaps while serving Mass, the general instruction of the Roman Missal says, “The area should be washed and the water poured into the sacrarium. This does not contradict the previous instruction not to pour the precious blood down the sacrarium because once it is sufficiently mixed with water, the form of wine ceases to be and with it the precious blood present under that form also ceases to be. The elements that once constituted the precious blood may be poured down the sacrarium, just as other elements found in chalices and other liturgical wares are washed there.

The same rule applies to using water to wash a place where a partially digested or chewed eucharistic host has been expelled. The remnants of the host must be collected and then dissolved in water in the sacrarium. Even if this took place far from the sacrarium, it must still be done, because the body of Christ deserves nothing less.

Interestingly, if an insect such as a fly were to fall into the chalice, the priest has options other than to consume the creature. St Thomas Aquinas said, “It ought to be poured out, and after purifying the chalice, fresh wine should be served for consecration. But if anything of the sort (should) happen after the consecration, the insect should be caught carefully and washed thoroughly, then burned, and the ‘ablution,’ together with the ashes, thrown into the sacrarium.”

A PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

FOR THE RENEWAL AND SPREAD OF THE FAITH

On the feast of Pentecost, May 23, Archbishop Paul D. Etienne will promulgate a new pastoral plan for the Archdiocese of Seattle. The archbishop invites Catholics to pray a novena to the Holy Spirit leading up to Pentecost (May 14–22), for the intention of the renewal and spread of the faith. The novena prayer is a translation of the traditional Pentecost hymn Veni Creator Spiritus.

Come, Creator Spirit,
visit the minds of those who are yours;
fill with heavenly grace
the hearts that you have made.

You who are named the Paraclete,
gift of God most high,
living fountain, fire, love
and anointing for the soul.

You are sevenfold in your gifts,
you are finger of God's right hand,
you, the Father's solemn promise putting words upon our lips.

Kindle a light in our senses,
pour love into our hearts,
infirmities of this body of ours
overcoming with strength secure.

The enemy drive from us away,
peace then give without delay;
with you as guide to lead the way
we avoid all cause of harm.

Grant we may know the Father through you,
and come to know the Son as well,
and may we always cling in faith to you,
the Spirit of them both.

Amen.

As Catholics we are called by our baptism to be missionary disciples, to “go into the world and proclaim the gospel to every creature.” (Mk 16:15)

You can answer that special call through your generous giving to the Annual Catholic Appeal. As we kick off the Appeal in our parish this weekend, take some time now to decide how you will show your support, and what your gift will be this year.

PARISH HAPPENINGS

Happy Mother's Day: Members of your Evangelization Team will be handing out carnations to all the Moms of our parish after all of the Masses this weekend to show our love and appreciation for this blessed vocation that celebrates Life each and every day! If you know a homebound mother feel free to take a carnation to her too!

Birthright: Holy Redeemer's Prepares Ministry is hosting a fundraiser for our local Birthright! Volunteers will distribute baby bottles on Mother's Day weekend (May 8/9) following each Mass. We ask that parishioners take their bottle home and prayerfully consider placing a donation to Birthright (cash and/or checks made out to Birthright) inside the baby bottle. Volunteers will be collecting returned bottles before each Mass on the following two weekends of May 15/16 and 22/23. Thank you for supporting families who choose life!

172nd Ave. Entrance: Great news, at long last we are able to use the entrance/exit from 172nd Ave. again. So, most of our handicapped parking is accessible and for the Vigil and Sunday Masses all the doors of the Church are unlocked now for easier access.

Rummage Sale: We will not be having our annual Rummage Sale in June. There is a possibility that we might have one in the Fall but we will have to see how COVID is doing before planning that. Stay tuned...

Calling all ushers, greeters, lectors, and extraordinary ministers of communion (EMs): We need you-please sign up to serve through the end of June using this link: <https://www.signupgenius.com/go/8050444afa82aa46-sign9>

A friendly reminder: Clark County is in phase 3 now so you do not need to sign up for Mass. Masks still must be worn so be sure to bring one! Please be welcoming and allow your fellow parishioners to sit next to you-it is kind and safe to do so.

We will continue to record the Masses so that those who cannot attend may participate at home.

Staying Close to Jesus

Angelus: We live stream the Angelus and prayer to Our Lady of Seattle for the end of the coronavirus Monday through Friday at noon and we invite you to join. The prayers are streamed through Facebook Live on our parish Facebook page. You do not need a Facebook account to view the stream. Facebook may prompt you to create an account, but you can simply say "Not Now" and watch the video.

Evening Prayer: To help those at home stay close to Jesus, we have taken this ministry online and are making it more frequent. Join us Monday through Thursday at 5:00pm for Evening Prayer. The prayers are streamed through Facebook Live on our parish Facebook page. Download This Week's Evening Prayers Here
