This Month Honor Our Parish Pilgrim Lady

The apostolate to "The Lady of the Miraculous Medal" under the Parish Pilgrim Lady Program honors our Blessed Virgin Mother. Her statue visits one home each week during the year. Hosting the statue reinforces our faith and gives us the opportunity to pray and trust Our Lady during the difficult times that our nation and the world face today. There are numerous future opportunities to schedule your week. To read more information and sign up, please refer to www.holyredeemervan.org or access the link through the Friday email sent during the month of October.

Please remember in your prayers:

Mia Ainardi+, Therese Benvente, Becky Bjorklund+, Larry Bolton, Joanne Brandon+, Sherry Callaghan, Bonnie & David Craig, Lee Dettling+, Bob Faust, Irma Gomez, Alex Gustavson, Michael James+, Shirley Kealey+, Jay Mahoney, Victoria Mercer & Family, Annie Mersarlen, Joseph Pleckinger+, Fran Plourd, Art Ricchiuti, Peggy & Ed Uribe, Jody Valencia, Diane Walsh+, Betty Wassick, George Wetzell, and Adeline Wright.

Make Halloween Catholic Again

Jesus Christ: Yesterday, Today, and Forever ~

Instead of dressing up your kids for Halloween as a fake superhero, popular cultural figure, or monster, how about dressing them up as a saint or angel? Instead of having your children trick or treat through demonically themed lawns and front doors, how about bringing them to the parish center for Christ-themed fun? This Halloween let's protect our children and reclaim this festivity from its current godless and even satanic manifestation and return it to its Catholic origins.

On Sunday, October 30th, Holy Redeemer Parish is hosting an "All Hallows Celebration". Come dressed as your favorite saint. The Knights of Columbus will grill up some hamburgers and hotdogs for a 1pm BBQ and at 1:30pm we'll Trunk or Treat, play saint-inspired games and eat delicious saintly snacks!

Never been to a Trunk or Treat? A Trunk or Treat is an alternative to going door-to-door for trick or treating. Volunteers bring their cars to our parking lot. As kids visit each car, you pass out candy from your car's trunk. To get into the festive spirit, we're offering a prize to the car voted "best dressed." Decorate your vehicle with a "Bible" inspired theme (keep it appropriate for all ages, of course!).

Whether you have children at home or not, we invite you to be part of our All Hallows Celebration. Of course, families, bring your children! Volunteer to help run a game. Can you donate candy or other items we need? Can you bring your car for our Trunk or Treat? Let us know you are entering the contest when you sign up. Your RSVP is super helpful as it allows us to plan for this event. To sign up, go to the Parish website at www.holyredeemervan.org and click on the All Hallows Celebration button at the bottom of our homepage for more information and to RSVP.

Below I have attached a couple of fantastic articles about Halloween and a link to an article about the origins of Halloween. I hope you'll take the time to read them.

May Almighty God Bless You,

Fr. Thomas Nathe

Here is the first part of a fantastic article on what Halloween has become and what it should be. You can find the whole article here - <https://onepeterfive.com/let-the-servants-of-hell-take-note-tomorrow/>

Let the Servants of Hell Take Note Tomorrow

Charles Fraune - October 30, 2021

What is being much discussed today, as is often the case in mid-to-late October in Catholic circles, is "What to do with Halloween?" I discussed this in an article last week, but there is so much more to say...

This year [2021], the Feast of Christ the King, designated by Pope Pius XI to be celebrated just before Hallowtide, falls directly on the day of Halloween, the Eve of All Saints, for which there is a special Vigil Mass. This convergence can bring a tremendous amount of clarity as to the spiritual status of Halloween in our culture today – a festival for which the excitement in occultic circles has achieved a fever pitch.

As it is an element of Hallowtide, many want to preserve Halloween and purify it of the evil that has latched on to it. As it is an important day in Satanism and witchcraft, many want to abandon it as a mere tradition that no longer has the symbolic power to turn men closer to God. However, we are not at a moment in the history of our culture or country at which we can afford to surrender a day to Satan, nor avoid suffering worse repercussions than we have already suffered from the modern onslaught of the occult.

Hell's Hijacking of Halloween

Exorcists have been warning about the dangers of Halloween for decades. Halloween is a sort of “magical new year's eve” during which time Satanists and witches carry out their rituals with a special vigor and determination. Some exorcists have also noted that those who are possessed, and those who are working on a team as assistants to exorcists, are attacked in stronger ways on Halloween.

Can occultists actually benefit and increase in evil by their rituals, in particular on Halloween? The power that Satanists and witches acquire is based on the degree of their connection with the diabolic and the decision by the demon to give or do what is asked. Certain rites bind Satanists and witches more intimately to the demons whom they serve in these rituals. The power of this binding is sin.

The demons are not required to do anything in exchange for rituals and sacrifices, but they choose to do so because it encourages the witches to continue to sin. Since the diabolical realm is very legalistic, they know that, once a Satanist or witch invokes them, that individual is sinning mortally, and the demon is permitted greater access to them, even to the extent of attacking them spiritually or physically. The demons have no power, of course, unless God gives them permission.

The Danger of the Encroaching Occult

When neighborhoods embrace a perverted attention to death and the “spooky,” adorning their homes with dismembered bodies, images of torture, figures headed toward damnation, horror and blood-lust, or mockery of the sacred, the servants of Hell are done a great favor. None of these images serve to orient the soul that beholds them toward Heaven and a greater desire for holiness. Instead, all of these images serve to frighten and instill fear, to harm the mind of the impressionable and to illicit anxiety and sadness.

It is in emotional reactions such as these, particularly in those who do not seek to be pleasing to God, nor pray to Him, that the demons who roam the earth can find their entry points. Fear disturbs the mind and makes man inclined to evil: sin and superstition, magic and control over the world, quick fixes to their problems. This is so because, without God, we tend toward despair, believing that there is nowhere for us to turn for aid and comfort.

The demons present themselves as the solution to the problems which burden men, if the latter will simply bind themselves to them by worship or sacrifice. Demons offer and are able to grant men power and earthly fortune and success. This comes at the cost of their souls, of course, for they demand that the person commits a mortal sin in order to receive their assistance, and the act of invoking a demon is itself a mortal sin. At a time when the youth and the rest of the culture which have become spiritually unmoored from the One True God, we can understand why this offer of assistance from the diabolical is so intriguing to them. Here is another fantastic article on the origins of Halloween called The Season of the Dead: The origins and practice of Allhallowtide. www.catholicworldreport.com/2018/10/24/the-season-of-the-dead-the-origins-and-practice-of-allhallowtide/
