Discern Your News

Jesus Christ: the Way, the Truth, and the Life ~

Most practicing Catholics are aware that the mainstream media is profoundly biased, to my eyes and ears they don't try to be accurate or balanced. What blows my mind however, is that a large minority of practicing Catholics believe whatever the mainstream media feeds them. For example, some practicing Catholics tune in and sympathize with National Public Radio's weekly stories in favor of sodomy and abortion rights. Stories that are not meant to report the news, but shape opinion; and shape opinion is what the mainstream media does, not report the news that we need to know. Like sheep led to the slaughter, some Catholics have uncritically been believing in the mainstream media for decades, so why bring it up now?

Last month I read the news article below and got mad. I got mad because the mainstream media and government seem to have colluded in hiding grave facts, grave facts that undiscerning Catholics would never suspect because the mainstream media told them to trust Pfizer and the government. The article below reports how COVID-19 vaccine tests resulted in lots of prenatal deaths and Pfizer and the Centers for Disease Control knew about it all along and recommended/forced pregnant women to get vaccinated anyway. You wouldn't know about it though if the mainstream media is where you get all your news, because the mainstream media won't report it!

What can be done? At a minimum, just a minimum, be discerning when you see something on the internet or TV, hear it on the radio, or read it in the paper. The powers that be in our world today are fundamentally opposed to the Truth of God and what that means for the way we should be living our lives.

Below is the news article I referenced above. I had to abridge it for space. You can read the whole thing at this website – <https://amgreatness.com/2022/08/16/report-44-percent-of-pregnant-women-in-pfizer-trial-lost-their-babies-fda-and-cdc-recommended-jabs-for-expectant-mothers-anyway/>

In Christ, I Love You,

Fr. Thomas Nathe

Report: 44 Percent of Pregnant Women in Pfizer Trial Lost Their Babies; FDA and CDC Recommended Jabs for Expectant Mothers Anyway

By Debra Heine – August 16, 2022

More than 40 percent of pregnant women who participated in Pfizer's mRNA COVID vaccine trial suffered miscarriages, according internal Pfizer documents, recently released under court order. Despite this, Pfizer, and the Biden administration insisted that the vaccines were safe for pregnant women. Out of 50 pregnant women, 22 of them lost their babies.

A batch of documents released in late July showed that 44 percent of women who were pregnant during the trial suffered miscarriages, feminist author and journalist Dr. Naomi Wolf revealed on Steve Bannon's War Room podcast. Wolf has been spearheading research and analysis of the Pfizer documents through her website Daily Clout. In the past, only 10 to 15 percent of known pregnancies ended in miscarriage.

September 18th, 2022

“Pfizer took those deaths of babies—those spontaneous abortions and miscarriages—and re-categorized them as recovered/resolved adverse effects,” Wolf told Bannon. “In other words, if you lost your baby, it was categorized by Pfizer as a resolved adverse event, like a headache that got better,” she added.

Wolf said adverse event cutoff report showing the miscarriages was March 13, 2021, and the FDA received the report on April 1, 2021. Therefore, the FDA had this data nearly a year and a half ago, and instead raising an alarm, they, along with the CDC, went ahead and recommended the experimental injections for expectant mothers anyway. “Over a year ago, the FDA received this report that out of 50 pregnant women, 22 of them lost their babies, and they did not say anything,” Wolf said, choking back tears. “Thus the FDA was aware of the horrifying rate of fetal death by the start of April 2021 and were silent.”

The CDC, as recently as last month, still recommended the experimental mRNA vaccines for pregnant and breastfeeding “people.” “COVID-19 vaccination is recommended for all people 6 months and older. This includes people who are pregnant, breastfeeding, trying to get pregnant now, or might become pregnant in the future,” the CDC claims in a July 2022 post on its website. “CDC also recommends COVID-19 vaccines for infants 6 months and older whose mother was vaccinated or had a COVID infection before or while pregnant.”

The FDA and CDC could conceivably claim they were unaware of high rate of miscarriages in the trial because Pfizer attempted to obscure the data. “Pfizer notes the miscarriages as serious adverse events with moderate or severe toxicity ratings,” Wolf explained. “However, all of them were re-categorized, by Pfizer, in the internal documents under the category of adverse events that were ‘recovered’ or ‘resolved.’”

Wolf noted that the Pfizer trial data correlates with the massive increase in miscarriages seen worldwide since the vaccine rollouts. “If you extrapolate, globally, to all the pregnant women who are injected, it could explain what we’re seeing now of a baby die-off. 200 percent rise in neonatal deaths or spontaneous abortions and miscarriages in Scotland,” she said, adding, “86 babies died in Ontario when they usually have five or six [per quarter], and in Israel, a 34 percent rise of spontaneous abortions and miscarriages to vaccine.”

Back in January, three military doctors who had access to vaccination data in the Department of Defense, Defense Medical Epidemiology Database (DMED), disclosed that miscarriages and cancers among members of the US military had increased by about 300 percent in 2021 over the five year average.

These alarming safety signals were among several others brought to light by Thomas Renz, a member of America’s Frontline Doctors’ legal team, during a panel discussion convened by Sen. Ron Johnson (R-Wis.) in January.

The CDC, however, still maintains on its website that “evidence continues to build showing that: COVID-19 vaccination during pregnancy is safe and effective.” The agency also claimed “there is currently no evidence that any vaccines, including COVID-19 vaccines, cause fertility problems in women or men,” despite recent studies showing otherwise.

Attempts to disclose these adverse events have been hampered by the imposition of gag orders on physicians and nurses. In September of 2021, the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology (ABOG) put out a statement in support of the Federation of State Medical Boards’ (FSMB) contention that “providing misinformation about the COVID-19 vaccine contradicts physicians’ ethical and professional responsibilities.” The ABOG said physicians disseminating “misinformation” would be subject to “disciplinary actions, including suspension or revocation of their medical license.” The ACOG, like the CDC, continues to recommend experimental injections for “pregnant people.”
